Dear Foundation for Public Schools in Edgefield County,

Thank you so much for the opportunity to enhance my students' learning and critical thinking skills. In November, we used the grant to purchase supplies for our "Can you Dig It?" project. On this day, as students stepped into the role of a paleontologist, they examined tools used in the field, identified and sorted fossils based on their characteristics, "dug" for their own fossils, and even made a fossil to take home. I wish you could hear the excitement through these pictures. The discussions they had at each table during their learning was all because of the support of this community and your board. I continue to be so incredibly grateful to teach in Edgefield County. There's no where else I'd rather be.
