

Articles in Action

Magazines offer a creative, colorful, and eclectic take on reading and all of its forms! My students enjoy the jokes, illustrations, poems, stories, puzzles, and texts and share them with one another. Some of them even enjoy sending in their own student submissions of student work, hopeful that they will be published in the magazine! Sparking a love of reading and cultivating an environment that fosters the ability to ENJOY reading and choose from different types of content to read shows our students that reading can and should be FUN! The more fun we have in our classroom, the more likely our students are to succeed! I send my sincerest gratitude to the Foundation for supplying our classrooms with more fun reading materials!
